

Learner Record Guidelines

Learners are required to record all steps in both the assignment and then your project to show key stages and decision making.

Not all subjects use a learner record, but ...

NO marks can be awarded if NO learner record is submitted.

This record, may include a diary, photographs, sketches, a 5 minute video presentation, and any other evidence to show the progress of the project.

The printed submission, will show:

- Clear and unambiguous evidence of individual research
- For Games Studies there will be notes on game play - in the assignment and project
- For Games Studies the playable game can be demonstrated with a screen recording.
- Visual research (sketches)
- Clear and unambiguous evidence of individual ideas and of concept progression
- Cuttings of reviews and articles of influence and interest

The record may take the form of a diary, or a straight forward record of all decisions taken. It's your choice.

Any specific requirements can be clarified with your tutor. There is no minimum and no maximum length for the record; start telling your story – when you've told it, stop.

Submission dates are as on the calendar and are generally no later than the last other item submitted for the subject.
